

Your timing chip is a MyLaps BibTag. It's a disposable timing chip that stays on the back of your race number. To ensure you receive an accurate time, you must follow the directions listed below.

- Your race number must be clearly visible on the front of the torso
- Do not wear your race number on your back, your side, your arm or leg
- Pin all corners of race number to what will be the outermost garment when crossing a Chip Timing Line such as the Start, Split and Finish Lines
- Do not bend or twist the BibTag at any time
- Do not attach beside or under a metal zipper or have any electronics cord go over race number
- Do not cover your race number with your hand or arm when crossing a Chip Timing Line
- Always remember the Timing Mat must 'see' your race number when you cross all Chip Timing Lines
